

ACP RAIL EXPANDS ITS NETWORK BY INTRODUCING RAIL AUSTRALIA & CHINA RAIL

MONTREAL, CANADA JULY 31, 2009

ACP Rail International is pleased to add two new exciting destinations to its existing global portfolio of rail partners. Rail Australia and China Rail join the likes of other exotic rail journeys, such as the popular East Japan Rail Pass. Travel agents around the world will now be able to access these great products through ACP Rail's easy to use booking systems; ACP RailNet for high volume tour operators and www.agent.acprail.com for travel agents.

Denis Grenier, VP of Marketing and Business Development at ACP Rail International, highlights how these new products are "Exciting additions to our robust European products - satisfying the needs of rail specialists who use our systems and benefit from our competitive remuneration and superior service".

Rail Australia presents 2 rail passes: the Ausrail Pass and the Rail Explorer Pass. Both of these passes are an essential accessory to any travelers' once in a lifetime' Aussie trip, allowing unlimited rail travel over a six month period. The Rail Explorer Pass serves up Australia's famous scenic rail journeys with the Great Southern Rail Network, including the Indian Pacific between Sydney and Perth, the Overland between Melbourne and Adelaide, and the Ghan between Adelaide and Darwin, via Alice Springs. Get this and more with the Ausrail Pass, which also features CountryLink and Traveltrain Holidays (QR) trains, with routes along the East Coast all the way up to Cairns!

China is another sought-after tourist destination, especially after the 2008 Olympics brought tremendous exposure to its foreign appeal and extraordinary beauty. To cater to this high demand, ACP Rail has introduced China Rail with a wide selection of point to point routes. One such route with overnight service is Beijing to Shanghai, where sleeper compartments save passengers the cost of a night's hotel. With rail being the safest, fastest and most comfortable way to travel in China, and due to the sheer size and complexity of its rail network, ACP Rail is confident that customers will surely turn to travel agents to book these routes.
